Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL)

Do you have prior qualifications and/or experience gained through years of work in skilled and challenging jobs? Gaining recognition of these skills is sometimes not easy and can hold you back in progressing your career to the next step. If this is your situation, you can unlock your full potential by having your skills recognised by ACFB!

All applications for RPL are considered by ACFB's Course Coordinator and NO claims for RPL will be considered unless accompanied by the relevant documentation outlined below.

How does the RPL process work?

An RPL application may take between 10-21 business days to process from when we receive your completed forms and supporting evidence. We will then map out your RPL, and email you with details of:

- Any RPL you may be entitled to,
- Any further evidence we may require (this may also include practical demonstrations) *
- Any units you may still have to complete
- (If applicable) The amended course price (which will include the RPL) fee.

You must then approve and sign your RPL summary if you wish to enrol. Please note: All RPL applications will be processed and agreed PRIOR to your enrolment being approved.

*Please note: a course deposit may be required if your RPL application includes practical demonstrations.
